Request For Applications

Factors Predicting Outcome in the Geriatric Surgical Patient

Through its Geriatrics Research Council, the Foundation for Anesthesia Education and Research is seeking applications for research funding for studies that will identify factors that are associated with or predictive of perioperative complications in geriatric patients.

Although applications for all categories of FAER grants are welcome, applications for Research Starter Grants are especially encouraged. Applications will be evaluated and scored through the same process as other FAER grant applications. The deadlines for FAER applications are February 15, 2006 and August 15, 2006. Information regarding FAER grants and application materials are available at www.f aer.org.
